

WELCOME MICHAEL

 Search DVIDS...

 1

First Woman Takes Rein of Naval Submarine Medical Research Laboratory

GROTON, CT, UNITED STATES
08.06.2018
Photo by Seaman John Narewski
Naval Medical Research Center

Subscribe 3

Like 1

A change of command was held for Naval Submarine Medical Research Laboratory on Monday, August 06, 2018 at Historic Ship Nautilus (SSN 571) in Groton, CT. Captain Frederick Yeo was relieved by Captain Kim Lefebvre at the ceremony. The presiding officer was Rear Admiral Paul Pearigen, Commander, Navy Medicine West and the guest speaker was Captain Edward Waters, Program Manager, DSBR&D Program Naval Sea Systems Command. Awards were presented by and the change of command was reported to Captain Adam Armstrong, Commander, Navy Medical Research Center. (U.S. Navy Photo by John Narewski)

LEAVE A COMMENT

0 Comments

Sort by Newest

Add a comment...

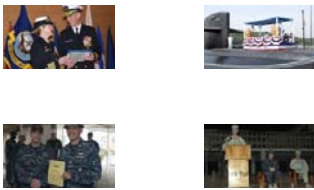

Facebook Comments Plugin

IMAGE INFO

Date Taken:	08.06.2018
Date Posted:	09.05.2018 09:44
Photo ID:	4702042
VIRIN:	180806-N-UM744-001
Resolution:	3000x2400
Size:	2.56 MB
Location:	GROTON, CT, US
Web Views:	176
Downloads:	6
Podcast Hits:	0

PUBLIC DOMAIN
This work, First Woman Takes Rein of Naval Submarine Medical Research Laboratory. by SN John

MORE LIKE THIS

ASSOCIATED NEWS

First Woman Takes Rein of Naval Submarine Medical Research Laboratory

TAGS

- Submarines NSMRL
- Naval Submarine Research Laboratory

OPTIONS

- Download Photo
- Download Gallery
- Add to My Downloads